

SUPPORTERS AND PARTNERS OF THE LINCOLN BICENTENNIAL CELEBRATION

Regional, national, and international partners working with the Chicago History Museum on this year-long celebration effort include the Abraham Lincoln Bicentennial Commission, Abraham Lincoln Presidential Library and Museum, Chicago Public Library, DePaul University, National Museum of Mexican Art, Newberry Library, CONACULTA (National Council for Culture and Arts), Instituto Nacional de Antropología e Historia (National Institute of Anthropology and History (INAH)), and the Secretaría de Hacienda y Crédito Público de México (Mexican Secretariat of Property and Public Credit (SHCP)).

The exhibitions and programming for the Lincoln Bicentennial celebration are made possible by the generous support of the following:

Exelon is the presenting sponsor for the Lincoln Bicentennial. In the last five years, Exelon's corporate citizenship program, "Energy for the Community," has donated millions of dollars and thousands of volunteer hours to charitable organizations like the Chicago History Museum. That commitment has helped Exelon earn recognition as one of the nation's "most admired" electric and gas utilities by FORTUNE magazine. One of the company's highest priorities in community involvement is to encourage and support the development of educational and environmental opportunities as well as diversity initiatives in the communities it serves;

Additional support provided by the Crown Family and Gordon and Carole Segal;

Abraham Lincoln Transformed is generously supported by Motorola Foundation with additional support provided by The Nathan Cummings Foundation;

Benito Juárez and the Making of Modern Mexico is generously supported by the Joyce Foundation and The Chicago Community Trust with additional support provided by Motorola Foundation;

Education programming for the Lincoln Bicentennial is generously supported by JP Morgan Chase, The Guild of the Chicago Historical Society, and Jacob and Rosaline Cohn Foundation. Adult programming is generously supported by Bank of America.

The Museum recognizes Tawani Foundation for their support of penny admission during opening weekend.
